

Sea Spray Scouts Day Sail Program

South Carolina Maritime Foundation Mission

The Spirit of South Carolina is dedicated to offering a unique educational platform for the youth of the Palmetto State. The hands-on programs that are offered aboard are designed to challenge and engage students while promoting responsibility, teamwork, and stewardship for both their community and their environment. Programs are designed around an interdisciplinary curriculum that focuses on math and science with extensions into the history and literature of South Carolina and our relationship to the sea.

Day Sail Program

- ⇒ Available for 18 weeks a year
- ⇒ Grades 5 - 8
- ⇒ Capacity of 35 students plus teacher and/or chaperones
- ⇒ Correlated to State Standards
- ⇒ All programs include both pre and post sail curriculum

Sea Spray Scouts – A day sail program designed to address state standards for both math and science with links to understanding the history and culture of South Carolina and the sea. This program will be presented in three phases laid out as follows:

- Phase one takes place in classroom. Teachers will be supplied with pre-cruise curriculum that is comprised of background content and activities to help them prepare students for a sail aboard the Spirit of South Carolina. The interactive activities included in the pre-cruise curriculum examine the Spirit of South Carolina and the subject matter that will be taught aboard the vessel. The pre-cruise curriculum is designed to complement the educational material presented during a sail, but it could also be used as a stand-alone unit in any classroom.
- Phase two is the shipboard phase. Students will participate in a sail aboard the Spirit of South Carolina. While aboard, they will be part of the crew and therefore will participate in all operations of the vessel including setting sails, steering, navigating and maneuvering.

During the sail students will also work in small groups as they rotate through three or four topic specific stations where they will participate in hands-on activities that relate to the operation of the vessel and exploration of harbor. The subject matter of each station will be predetermined by teacher and the Foundation's Director of Education (see attached activity list for possible academic focus areas). This process allows each teacher to tailor the academic content of the shipboard program directly to their classroom studies. Following the station activities students will reassemble as a group to discuss the historical and cultural significance of the area and prepare the vessel to return to the dock.

- Phase three will again be in the classroom and include post-cruise curriculum for the teachers. The post-cruise curriculum is intended to bring closure to the experience as well as assess the students' comprehension of the material. The activities provided will be designed to broaden the students' level of understanding as well as test each individual's grasp of the bigger picture. Assessments will also be made during this phase by the teachers and Foundation to ensure we are meeting our educational goals.
